"Les Charmes" 2014

Burgundy, France

Score: 92

Like the Groseilles the wood treatment is deft but not hidden though is easily allows for the clear expression of the plum, floral, spiced tea and sandalwood nuances. There is a really lovely texture to the succulent and utterly delicious medium-bodied flavors that display a subtle mineral streak that continues onto the generously proportioned and lingering finish. This is a wine of contrasts in that the mid-palate is notably pliant and supple yet the finish is firm, mildly austere and serious.
