2016 Chardonnay Pence Ranch
Sta. Rita Hills, California

The Wine Advocate #236 – April 2018

Score 91 points

The 2016 Chardonnay Pence Ranch is very pretty, wafting from the glass with a youthful nose of white peach, citrus oil, fresh herbs, ginger and subtle nutmeg. On the palate, the wine is medium-bodied, delicately glossy and bright, built around a succulent line of acidity and displaying excellent depth and concentration despite being a touch shut down after its recent bottling.
