

JEB DUNNUCK

Domaine Jean-Louis Chave

2015 Saint Joseph

Rhône, France

January 2018

Score: 94 Points

There are two Saint Joseph releases in 2015, and Jean-Louis finally decided to bottle his Le Clos cuvée separately. Hats off to him as both wines are up with the crème de la crème of the appellation. Looking at the classic 2015 Saint Joseph, this beauty offers loads of kirsch, currants, and blackberry fruits intermixed with more smoked meats, cedar, and minerality. It's a rich, powerful, mineral-laced Saint Joseph to drink over the coming 10-15 years.
