

Wine Spectator

www.winespectator.com

Jean-Louis Chave

St.-Joseph 2016

Rhône, France

October 2019

Score: 95 points

Alluring, with black tea and singed alder hints curling around a core of gently steeped black cherry and blackberry flavors. The very silky and refined structure carries the fruit through a beguiling finish, while olive, sanguine, iron and savory hints peek in. (JM)

