90-92 Points

Full bright ruby. Blackberry, kirsch, licorice and violet aromas are given a penetrating quality by notes of black peppercorn and medicinal menthol. Then sweet, pliant and fruit-driven, offering a lovely creaminess of texture to its crushed-berry flavors. Still a bit medicinal and stunted in the early going, but long on the aftertaste, with the dusty tannins coming across as ripe, not dry. Today the Charmes is showing more personality. (ST)
