

Wine Spectator

www.winespectator.com

Domaine de la Solitude

Reviewed by James Molesworth

August 2017

Châteauneuf-du-Pape Cornelia Constanza 2015

This has great energy from the start, with notes of bay leaf, warm brick and juniper leading the way, backed by a solid core of red currant, raspberry and plum coulis flavors. The long finish lets sanguine and iron accents flow through while still leaving plenty of room for the fruit. (96 points)

Châteauneuf-du-Pape Secrète Réserve 2015

This is packed with dark plum, blackberry and boysenberry preserve flavors at the core, enlivened with juniper, tobacco and licorice snap notes. Lovely roasted apple wood accents score the finish, with the fruit taking a long encore. (96 points)

Châteauneuf-du-Pape Cuvée Barberini 2015

This drips with raspberry, cassis and plum fruit flavors, with a remarkably silky feel throughout. Alluring black tea and incense notes hang in the background, and there's an element of roasted apple wood as well. The fruit blazes through the finish. (95 points)

