2022 Tansy Fiano

Bowland Vineyard, Russian River Valley

About

Tansy Wines was born in A16, a local San Francisco restaurant known for bringing southern Italian wines and food to diners. The owner, Shelley Lindgren, met Kitty Oestlien, a business executive and wine lover, and together they created a women owned winery focused on Italian varietals that are grown locally in Northern California.

Each wine focuses on a unique vineyard, committed to sustainable and organic farming practices. Megan Glaab's wine making offers a unique take of minimal intervention with no temperature control or additives, ensuring the wines are vibrant, natural, lower in alcohol and distinctly connected to the terroir. Local female botanical artists are featured on every label, highlighting wildflowers that grow healthily in and around these vineyards.

Winemaking

The 2022 vintage of Tansy Fiano was picked on September 6, 2022. Upon arriving at the winery, grapes were directly pressed with the stems intact, and natively fermented in a combination of stainless steel and neutral french oak for both primary and secondary fermentations. The wine was aged 10 months in 100% neutral french oak barrels, and racked just before bottling on September 13, 2023.

Vineyard

Bowland Vineyard is the personal vineyard of Chris Bowland, the owner of Sonoma's famed Bowland Vineyard Management known for farming organically and sustainably across vineyards in the AVA. Bowland Vineyard is located on the floor of Russian River Valley and has just over an acre of Fiano planted at the site. These vines, planted in 2011 in the sandy loam goldridge soil, welcome warm, sunny days over the growing season that allow the fruit to ripen and develop complex flavors. The cooler nights and morning fog ensure the grapes retain acidity, even towards the end of the growing season.

Tasting Notes

A lively, bright, vibrant white wine with complex notes of asian pear, seville orange, peet, and a chalky minerality that combine into a generous palette of honeydew melon and lemon pith. Inspired by the Fianos of southern Italy, the grape's place of origin, Tansy Fiano is grown, picked, and made with the goal of striking the perfect balance of acidity, minerality, and body.
