

The Ultimate Burgundy Reference

Issue 63

June 2016

Domaine Marc Colin

Chassagne-Montrachet "Champs Gain" 2014

Burgundy, France

Score: 91

This is sufficiently reduced to require a thorough aeration if you're going to try a bottle young. Otherwise there is excellent vibrancy and detail to the delicious middle weight flavors that display unusually good cut for the appellation, all wrapped in a tension-filled and persistent finish. This pretty effort should benefit from a few years of bottle age to better develop the overall depth.