I loved these 2013s, and they both offer fantastic depth in richness in the vintage. Black raspberry, creamy licorice, toast and spice all flow from the 2013 Cornas, and it has full-bodied power, sweet tannin and integrated acidity. Aged 16 months in new demi-muids, enjoy this polished, elegant and seamless beauty through 2028. Johann Michel continues to produce brilliant wines from the steep, granite infused slopes of Cornas. Both his 2012s, which I raved about last year, and his 2013s are some of the most successful in appellation. Drink 2014–2028
