

PROFILE

The Jura is a small, mountainous winegrowing region located between Burgundy and Switzerland in the far east of France. The region is fairly isolated and has retained a strong sense of tradition, marked by unique grapes and unusual wine styles. The owners of Lulu Vigneron, Ludwig Bindernagel and Nathalie Eigenschenck, purchased the Domaine in 2000. Their first vintage came shortly after in 2002. Their motto of “the wine is made in the vineyard” is exemplified by the fact Ludwig works with the vines every day. The strict attention to detail and quality helps create very complex wines with depth and layers that reflect the individuality of Jura.

Savignin is a grape that is cultivated almost exclusively in the Jura region of France. It is not related to Savignon Blanc, but is instead a parent of Gewürtraminer, placing it in the Pinot Noir family.

SPECIFICATIONS

Wine: Côte du Jura Savagnin

Varietals: Savagnin

Appellation: Côte du Jura AOC

Location: Poligny

Soil: Marl, Calcareous

Pruning: Guyot

Harvest: Manual

Agricultural Method: Organic, Sustainable, Natural

Vinification: 8 hours of maceration followed by racking into barrels at the beginning of fermentation. Less than 1-2 grams of sulfites per hl are added if necessary.

Tasting Note: Apple, baking spices, candied lemon, comte and acacia blossoms are subtle yet persistent within a textured, supple, bright white wine. Delicious with soft, fresh cheese, roasted whole fish, or any cream-based sauce.

Alcohol: 12.2%

SHIVERICK IMPORTS • from vine to glass for more than 30 years

www.shiverick.com • shiverick@shiverick.com