This is also attractively spiced if somewhat more discreetly though the floral influence is more pronounced on the red and black cherry, raspberry and violet-scented nose. There is excellent intensity to the punchy and sleek medium-bodied flavors that once again culminate in a dusty, youthfully austere and sneaky long finish. This too is going to require a minimum of 5 years of cellaring to flesh out and develop better overall depth. Alternatively, if you are tempted to try a bottle young, then I would advise pairing it with an appropriate dish.
